

the complete solution

who we are

Solmetex is proud to be the industry leader and manufacturer of the NXT Hg5® series of Amalgam Separators, the gold standard in amalgam separation. Our comprehensive product line provides all the necessary components to meet or exceed the current requirements of the EPA Dental Rule. Solmetex has a 25+ year history of helping dental practices prevent contamination of our waterways and comply with the water safety regulations. Solmetex is a company that provides Safety Solutions for Dentistry.

where we're going

With the recent merger of Sterisil & DryShield with Solmetex, the combined companies share a common focus on clean water, patient safety and waste recycling solutions to improve the ecological impact of caring for patients within the dental category. With over 50 combined years of experience, together they will strengthen and expand partnerships, drive more effective compliance with water treatment requirements for both individual dental practices and large group organizations.
